In order to be prepared for the online examination, the following literature is required. It ensures that a basic level of understanding is met, so that students will be able to fully profit from the MCIIT program.

Please note that the recommendations reflect online examination criteria only, and does not represent the total scope of the Management, Communication & IT study program.

1. Reading preparation

2. TED talks